MARYMOUNT IB STUDENTS WITH A LOT OF HEART
On February 14, Marymount Students Deliver Love to the Homeless!

Once again Marymount Academy students make a difference to others.

While everyone else will be out celebrating a day of love with chocolate and flowers, Marymount IB students will be cooking up a storm in the school kitchen and then...taking the meals out to those less fortunate.

With the help of PA Supermarche on Fort Street, the scent of spicy chicken and rice, cooked with cloves and turmeric will permeate the school halls. The NDG Food Bank will come to the school to pick up the food and, with the students, will distribute the meals to the hungry.

Part of the Marymount tradition has been to make the students aware of the community around them. They have done this with an ongoing project called 'Marymount Says Thanks', going into the community, taking the workers coffee, donuts and flowers.

This is the first time the students have cooked at the school and gone into the community with such a large initiative.
